NEWS RELEASE

(EASTON, MD – April 5, 2011)

Motivational Theatre welcomes three new board members

The Hugh Gregory Gallagher Motivational Theatre is pleased to announce Bill Byrne of Tilghman, Anita Tecce of Easton, and Marie Thomas of Wye Mills have joined its board of directors. Bill Byrne, an English instructor at Chesapeake College, is a veteran actor and has appeared in numerous theatrical productions on the Eastern Shore and with Motivational Theatre, including most recently “18 Days in July” and “The Card Table.”

Rejoining the board after a year's absence is Chesapeake College's Associate Professor of Theatre and Communication, Anita Tecce, who is also co-directing Motivational Theatre's upcoming performance of “The ‘R’ Word,” April 29–May 7.

Marie Thomas works in the marketing department of the Chesapeake Bay Maritime Museum in St. Michaels, and is currently pursuing a master's degree in publication design at the University of Baltimore. “We are very excited to welcome Bill, Anita, and Marie to our board of directors,” said Motivational Theatre's Executive Director Bob Chauncey. “We have big plans for Motivational Theatre, and are happy our new members will be a part of it.”

Some of those plans include the upcoming performance of “The ‘R’ Word” at Chesapeake College's newly-renovated Cadby Studio Theatre in Wye Mills, April 29-30, May 1, and May 6-7, Fridays and Saturdays at 8 pm and Sundays at 2 pm. Tickets are $15 for adults, $6 for students, and free to Chesapeake College students. Government employees with a government-issued ID receive $5 off ticket price.
